Oceanside RCMP issue statement
on grad 'Death Races'

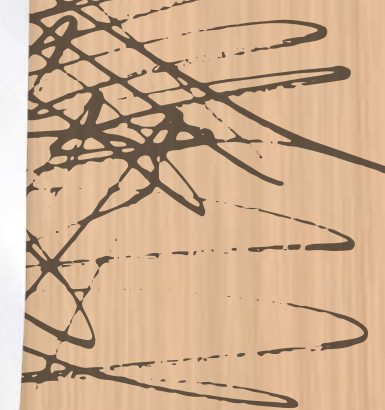

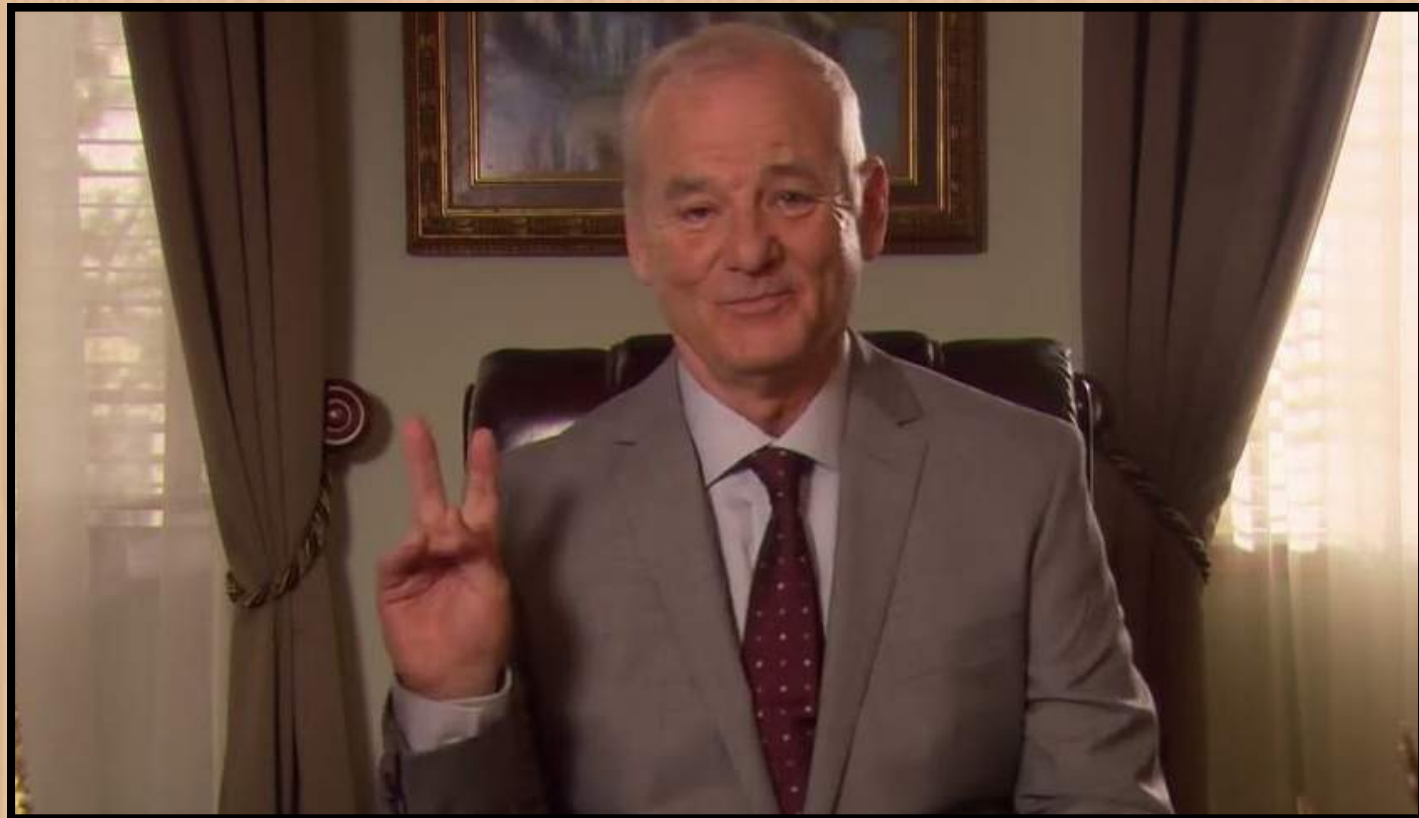

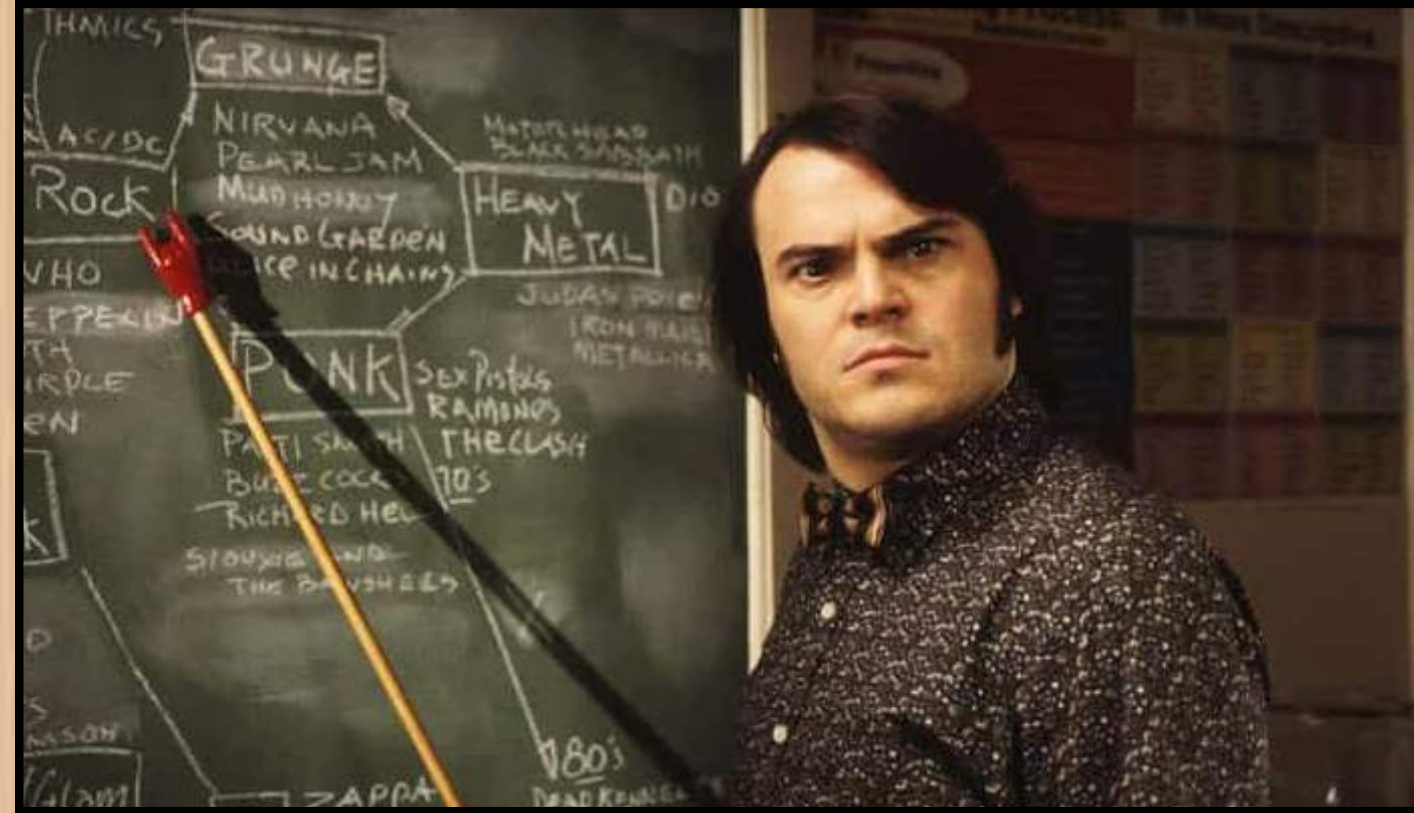

With graduation days away, TJ, a Straight-laced, arrogant, overachiever prepares to leave his go-nowhere small-town for college in the big city. When his confession of love for the girl of his dreams results in a humiliating boner in front of his entire class, he signs up for Death Race, in a last-ditch effort to prove himself. Alongside TJ, his bestie JESSICA (17), a cynical but forward-thinking entrepreneur. Both are joined by an emotionally unstable freshman, AMANDA (14).

The three must complete a series of insane challenges while defending themselves against a pompous grad-president, a thespian sheriff, and a 100-year-old vampire all hell bent on DEATH RACE.

As TJ, Jessica, and Amanda fight for their actual lives, they discover their life paths drifting apart. When the sun rises after the death race horn sounds, the best friends must face the hard truths of growing up and the real meaning of friendship.

TJ is a straight-laced, arrogant, overachiever. At 17, he's ready to graduate and leave his small town for the big city- but not before he professes his love for the girl of his dreams. Instead, he humiliates himself when he pops a boner in front of his entire class. In a last-ditch effort to prove his love, TJ signs up for Death Race with his bestie

Bank meeting
Tuesday

A cynical but forward-thinking entrepreneur, Jessica is 17 going on 30. She and TJ are best friends. After not receiving her bank loan for "Jessica Juice" she pushes him to join Death race out of the selfish need to win the prize money and begin her small-business.

Rounding out our three-musketeers is an emotionally unstable, quirky, awkward freshman, AMANDA (14). Amanda is new in town, living with her grandmother after it's revealed both of Amanda's parents and sibling died in a freak accident. She struggles to make friends, but latches on to TJ and Jessica who eventually accept her.
